

Change in Drivers' Test Eyed

BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—A wide variety of recommendations — including one that driver's license examinations be handled by the state — came today from the final session of the governor's safety conference.

Atty. Gen. Allan G. Shepard presented the summation of recommendations, drafted in seven separate panel discussions earlier during the two-day conference.

At present drivers' examinations are handled by sheriff's offices and despite repeated recommendations for a change the legislature has refused to alter the plan.

The panel on traffic safety also recommended that driver education courses be given accredited status in public schools to widen participation in them. They are offered now, but without credit.

Shepard, in his summation, said the recommendations pointed up the need to carry safety education to the individual.

"The individual worker," he noted, "is the point at which goes to rest the responsibility of safety."

He said the panel also determined that 80 per cent of the work of management in the field of mining safety fail to reach the worker.

Other recommendations included: "Increase the appropriation for the state labor department to permit more safety inspections."

Establish a state fire marshals office to coordinate fire prevention work and regulation.

"Require safety instruction as part of the public school curriculum."

Librarians Gather for Workshop

Forty-five library trustees from 12 Magic Valley areas met Friday in the periodical room of the Twin Falls public library for the annual Library Trustee workshop.

Major emphasis of the meeting was the study survey by D. Stuart Baillie, director of the public school of librarianship of the University of Denver.

Dr. Baillie's plan recommends a group of six regional libraries to form an encompassing unit. These units of service will be built from the strength of the existing libraries, with one of the six major cities the center of each region.

Idaho's population is only 100,000 persons would be in each region.

A grant-in-aid also was discussed at the workshop, as a necessary step toward achieving better public libraries. Certain reasonable standards would be built into the grants program.

Establishment of the library fund levy advanced to the maximum within three years. Participation in a regional system within three years, and personal meeting some-qualified.

The grants themselves would be of five types—a basic per capita grant, an establishment grant, regional grants, educational grants, and staff salary supplement grants.

A scholarship and recruiting program was discussed, in order to have the necessary staff for the regional plan. This program would include state-in-aid, full-time scholarships, state salary supplements to keep good professionals, smaller library association scholarships, and library service scholarships.

With such a plan, eight professionals might be attracted to Idaho public libraries each year.

Utahns Plan For Border War Parley

SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. George D. Clyde and other Utah officials were making preparations today for a Nov. 12 meeting in Logan, Utah, with Idaho representatives over the so-called "border war" between the two states.

Clyde will lead a delegation consisting of Utah fish and game, state highway patrol and state tax commission representatives to the Tuesday meeting. They will discuss with Idaho officials a situation leading some southern Idaho farmers to post their lands: "Utah Hunters Keep Out."

While agreeing to the meeting, Governor Clyde noted that no explanations from Idaho on the controversy have been submitted.

Rockefeller Campaign Office Opens

CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 8 (AP)—Gov. Nelson Rockefeller officially opened his first-in-the-nation presidential headquarters today while a Dixieland band played "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Rockefeller arrived at his headquarters in room 39 and 37 of the New Hampshire Highway hotel as 200 placard-carrying supporters chanted "We want Rocky."

The headquarters opening climaxed a two-day tour of southern New Hampshire, home of the first-in-the-nation presidential primary—March 10.

Earlier Rockefeller toured the Edgcomb Steel company of New England and Gregg and Sons kitchen cabinet plant in Nashua.

Miss T. F. Beauty Event Set Dec. 28

The 13th annual Miss Twin Falls beauty pageant will be conducted at 8 p.m. Dec. 28 at the Twin Falls high school gymnasium, reports Tom McVey, general chairman of the event. The pageant is being sponsored by the Twin Falls Lions club.

The girls chosen as Miss Twin Falls will participate in the Miss Idaho pageant in June at Boise. The Miss Twin Falls pageant encourages furtherance of higher education, cultural endeavor and artistic achievement.

All contestants must be at least 18 years old and single. They are judged on talent, poise, personality, evening gown and swimsuit appearance.

Applications for the contest are now available. Parents who have a daughter or know a girl interested in entering the pageant are urged to contact McVey at 733-1003; Lavener Thornock, entrance chairman, 733-2301; C. E. Bassard, Lions club president, 733-6282, or any Lions club member.

BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Stanley Demchick, Idaho state commissioner of agriculture, will represent Gov. Robert E. Smylie at the meeting of the North Idaho Chamber of Commerce in St. Charles tonight. The governor's representative will be invited to speak but has declined to do so. He has declined to make a prior engagement, he said, "It is impossible for him to do."

Knull Grange Scout Troop Best in U.S.

Boy Scout troop No. 62, sponsored by the Knull Grange, has been selected "Grange Troop of the year," and will be honored during the 1963 National Grange convention Nov. 15 and Nov. 16 at Portland, Ore. Every council in the nation was required to submit a record of Grange Scout troop activities and fill out a questionnaire on leadership qualities in the troop throughout the year. The Knull Grange was selected out of some 529 troops as the best in the nation.

By national Scout headquarters in New York. It was reported that to date there have been 22 Eagle Scouts in the Knull Grange and seven more Scouts will receive their Eagle awards at 8 p.m. Wednesday at the Knull Grange hall.

About 27 boys from the Grange troop will participate in the trip. They will be honored at a banquet Saturday evening and will receive the swards on stage before the national assembly Sunday.

Gary Dougherty, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Dougherty, will give a talk on the troop activities in relation to the Grange at the acceptance.

Eugene Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Starr, Twin Falls, will give the acceptance speech. The troop will sponsor a box supper and bingo party at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Knull community center to raise funds for transportation to the convention.

Suit Seeking Hanna Firm Overcharge

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Justice department today filed suit in Portland, Ore., to recover more than 1.8 million dollars from the Hanna Mining company and the Hanna Nickel Smelting company for overcharges on a stockpiling contract.

It was the first government suit stemming from the stockpiling hearings conducted by Sen. Stuart Symington, D., Mo., last year.

President Kennedy last year expressed concern about excesses in the government stockpile of strategic materials and Symington then began investigating stockpile transactions, including the Hanna nickel contract, a month later.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the suit filed in Portland today seeks to recover overcharges on a contract negotiated by George Humphreys just before he became secretary of treasury in the Eisenhower administration.

Low Bid Listed On River Project

BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—The firm of George E. Grover and sons, Shelley, is apparent low of seven bidders on a channel snagging and clearing job on Little Wood river near Gooding.

The army engineers at Walla Walla, Wash., notified Gov. Robert E. Smylie today the firm offered to do the work for $11,075.

For good measure, the senate approved still another ban on aid—to nations whose fish-living policies "violate freedom of the seas."

Administration forces clearly were reeling as the senate closed up shop after its first night session, since taking up foreign aid a week ago Monday.

The slow and rocky road to passage of the $3,742,500,000 measure is shown with 47 additional amendments aimed either at paring the authorization, or restricting how the funds be used.

A "votes vote" brought home the amendment to deny President Kennedy any discretion to provide military or economic assistance to communist Yugoslavia.

Administration forces plan to fight later to restore the President's discretion to provide most-favored-nation trade treatments for Yugoslavia and Poland.

Long List of Witnesses Kills Tax Cut

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The senate finance committee today released a list of witnesses to be heard on President Kennedy's tax-out bill. It stretches from here to Christmas.

The list all but buried chances for senate passage this year of a tax cut.

The house has passed a 11 billion dollar tax cut.

The list was completed as the tax-writing committee, headed by conservative Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D. Va., wound up its fourth foot-dragging week of testimony on the bill.

The committee is considering whether it would present operation of the slack-water navigation system which would extend as far upstream in the Snake (See SMYLYE, Page 2)

Convoys Test Red Intent On Highway

BERLIN, Nov. 8 (AP)—The western allies tested Soviet intentions today by dispatching British and French convoys to West Berlin over the 110-mile autobahn through Communist East Germany.

The Russians cleared them without incident.

The Russians did not raise the issue of a troop headcount with either convoy today. Their insistence that U.S. soldiers leave their trucks to be counted earlier this week resulted in a 41-hour deadlock and caused a grave new cold war crisis.

Soviet officers, faced with alleged solidarity in demanding access to West Berlin, processed the two convoys today in routine fashion at both the Marienborn and Babelsberg autobahn checkpoints.

Republicans Drive in South

CHARLESTON, S.C., Nov. 8 (AP)—"We have come here to anchor a real Republican party in the South, regardless of who the candidate is," National GOP Chairman William E. Miller told a 13-state Southern planning workshop today.

"We have established against greatest odds, a real two-party system" in the southern democratic area, he assured 100 enthusiastic workers.

barred last year by congress. But Sen. William Proxmire, D., Wis., is ready with an amendment to cut off all aid to Yugoslavia except for some surplus food and for assistance to American schools, hospitals and libraries.

And Sen. Frank J. Lausche, D., Ohio, said he will offer an amendment to wipe out completely the President's discretion to aid any communist country under any circumstance.

Smylie Says Plan To Divert Idaho Water Is Piracy

BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Disclosure of details of Los Angeles' plan to divert water from Idaho brought from Gov. Robert E. Smylie today the assertion that it is "pure, unvarnished piracy." "Having failed to make off with Arizona's water," Smylie said, "Los Angeles is now attempting to find some other source and there is something in the plan for everybody but the waterusers of Idaho. It would seem much more becoming for Los Angeles to draw water supplies from the water surplus counties in northern California than to attempt to raid its neighbors' and customers in adjoining states."

Smylie's comment followed disclosure that the Los Angeles plan includes reimbursement for existing and prospective hydroelectric plants in the Northwest which would lose their water.

Ralph Wickberg, president of the Idaho public utilities commission, said he wondered if this would include the high mountain water.

Opposed

IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 8 (AP)—Two leading east Idaho watermen today sharply opposed the proposed plan of the city of Los Angeles to divert water of Snake river to southern California.

Speaking out vigorously against such a move were Leonard Graham, Rigby, chairman of the Committee of Nine, influential water advisory group, and William S. Holden, Idaho Falls attorney and legal counsel for water district 36. The district embraces most of south Idaho.

Sheep and Nez Perce dams on Snake river, for which applications are pending before the federal power commission. There also was speculation whether it would present operation of the slack-water navigation system which would extend as far upstream in the Snake (See SMYLYE, Page 2)

Douglas-Home Wins By 9,328 Ballots

PERTH, Scotland, Nov. 9 (AP)—British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home won a seat in the house of commons today by a whopping 9,328-vote margin which he hoped would take some sting out of a bad Conservative party defeat in another special election. Defeat of the prime minister in the safe Conservative district of Kinross and West Perthshire would have been unprecedented disaster for the Conservatives and would have plunged Britain into a government crisis. Instead Douglas-Home's big victory was a psychological counter to his party's loss last night by another big margin of the commons' seat for the district of Luton.

The Perthshire vote was: Douglas-Home, 14,147; Alastair Duncan (Liberal), 1,819; Andrew Forrester (Labourite), 3,752; Arthur Donaldson (Scottish Nationalist), 1,801; Ian Smith (Independent), 78; William Rush-ton, (Independent), 45; a 23 Richard Wort, (Independent) 23.

In a three-sided race in the 1959 general election the Conservatives won the same district by a 12,000-vote margin. No one had expected them to come anywhere near that figure this time. The 60-year-old prime minister was a member of the house of lords until he renounced his earldom to succeed Harold Macmillan.

UF Group Has Kickoff Meeting

The industry and employees action of division A, advanced gift division for the Twin Falls United Fund, conducted its kickoff breakfast meeting Friday morning at the Depot grill. Chairman for this group is Kurt Moss.

Team captains meeting Friday morning include Kenneth Brown, Melvin Carr, John Berle, Steve Olenyok, Robert Day, J. P. Smith, Donald Murphy, Howard Kelso, Roger Marsh, J. D. McCollum, David Mend, Jack Threikeld and Lynn Lake.

The goal for this year's United Fund campaign is set at $45,000, with seven agencies participating.

Rain Soaks Valley, Mountains Get Snow

Two inches of new snow fell Thursday night and Friday morning at Galena summit and it was still snowing hard there at noon. While snow was falling in the higher elevations, general rain was reported throughout the valley. Snow had melted at Galena, but there still is 10 inches on the ground. Highway plows were being used on highway 93 Friday. Hailey also received two inches of new snow Thursday evening, but it was 38 degrees Friday noon. It still was storming Friday noon at Bald mountain, where Sun Valley officials reported 12 inches of snow on the ground.

Eight inches of snow were reported at Magic mountain, south of Hansen. The forest service at Hailey said 13 of an inch of precipitation had fallen by 8 a.m. Friday.

Two and one-half inches of snow were reported on the ground at Fairfield.

Development Group Here Lists Officers

The Downtown Development committee held an organizational meeting and discussed the problems of a town similar in size to Twin Falls at its committee meeting Thursday evening in the city hall.

Edward L. Benoit was elected chairman of the committee, T. Voy Hudson, vice chairman, Lyle A. Fraser, treasurer, and Earl Haroldson, secretary.

The committee discussed the problems of Grand Junction, Colo., as related to Twin Falls. Films of the city were shown. It was reported Grand Junction has full blocks of landscaped areas in the downtown, plus rest areas for pedestrians. Grand Junction also proposed to the merchants in its city to modernize store fronts. The modernization resulted in gratifying results for the businessmen, it was reported.

It was proposed that Twin Falls make a study of its different problems, such as taking traffic off Main avenue, placing storm sewers in the downtown area, constructing public restrooms in the downtown area, use of the vacant buildings and make an overall design for traffic control through the city.

Committees, designed for each one of the separate problems of Twin Falls, will be appointed by the office of the development committee at a noon luncheon meeting Thursday at Wray's cafe.

Krebiozen Prosecution Step Taken

CHICAGO, March 8 (AP)—The government directed Drs. Andrew C. Ivy and Steven Durovic today to show cause why they should not be prosecuted under federal laws for claiming Krebiozen is an effective drug against cancer.

The food and drug administration served similar notices on Marko Durovic, brother of Steven, Dr. William P. P. Phillips of Chicago, and the Krebiozen Research foundation.

An FDA spokesman in Chicago said registered letters giving notice of the action were put in the mails today and that an informal closed hearing will be held in Chicago starting Nov. 18.

The action is being taken under the food, drug and cosmetic act. Maximum penalty for a conviction is a $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

Dr. Ivy said today he had not yet received notice of the hearing, but added in a statement: "We welcome a hearing in an open court. The whole campaign against Krebiozen has been one of misrepresentation based on facts by those in authority."

Millions Taken In Jewel Holdup

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Four daring highwaymen, two of them wearing Halloween masks, forced a jewelry messenger truck to the curb and took from Times Square today and hijacked an estimated 1 million dollars worth of gems.

Police said the robbery took place shortly before 1 p.m. at 12th avenue and 30th streets. The gunmen, carrying three weapons, intercepted the panel truck on 41st street and handcuffed six guards who were protecting about 44 bags of jewelry.

18 DIE IN CRASH HELSINKI, Finland, Nov. 8 (AP)—A Finnish DC-3 airplane crashed into a forest on a small island in the Gulf of Bothnia tonight, apparently killing 18 of 21 persons on board.

Rusk Hoping Air Cleared In Viet Nam

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the new government of South Viet Nam brings hope that the troubled nation can be "free and secure."

Rusk told a news conference, on the day following recognition of the new government by the United States and Britain, that this country has no special interest of its own in Viet Nam and never has had a selfish concern there.

The American interest from the outset, he said, has been to insure survival of the nation against the threat of communist takeover.

The news conference centered on the Viet Nam situation but ranged widely.

The secretary said there may be some agreement soon on the proposed 250 million dollar wheat deal with Russia, but that negotiations are still going on and he didn't know what the outcome might be.

Rusk was asked what the chances were for a multi-national nuclear force, in view of present political unrest in Italy and England.

He said, "Now that we know that our allies are in favor of it, we are ready to go ahead."

Venezuela Poses Complaint Over Arms From Cuba

CARACAS, Venezuela, Nov. 8 (AP)—A government source said today Venezuela will complain to the United Nations if an examination of captured arms and munitions prove they came from Cuba.

Interior Minister Manuel Manuella said proof of the Cuba link to the three-ton shipment dug up on an isolated beach earlier this week has not yet been established, but that investigation is continuing.

An informed source said the government was "90 per cent sure" the war material originated in Cuba.

Planes, Troops To Quit Britain

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The defense department announced today that 2,650 American military personnel and 41 bombers and tanker planes will be withdrawn from Britain by next July 1.

The withdrawal involves the closing of two of four bases in Britain currently used by "B-7 bombers, and the return to the United States of 10 bombers and 22 tanker planes.

The reduction amounts to approximately 10 per cent.

Bulletin

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The United States and the Soviet Union reached an understanding today that American grain donors will offer wheat for a price which includes the freight to Russian ports.

The agreement came at a meeting between the Soviet when-buying delegation and Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG
BY ANDREW TULLY
WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—That is a bum rap Pravda and the ruling Soviet clique is handing out to Russian composers, to wit, that their music is dull. The copier also is claiming that Soviet opera composers are "uninspired" by life in Russia today, and that they are reaching back into the non-communist past for their plots.
The rap is a bum one, not only because it is false but because there are extenuating circumstances. The Russian composer who dared would, plead guilty and then explain that, after all, he was just reporting the facts. Any American who has ever been in the Soviet Union, including me, can report that it is one of the dreariest spots on the map. As a subject for music, it's about as inspiring as a poorhouse with a rotting roof.

MASSSES BORED AND WRETCHED—Often, especially in some American slums, there is a kind of herosim to the underprivileged, but in Russia the masses are merely tediously wretched. They live in wretched, overcrowded houses often two families to a single room, they eat wretched, unimaginative food, and they discuss only safe, and therefore dull, subjects. Their lives are spent in a calculated national atmosphere of boredom. They've been saddled by their masters with a Puritanism that robs them of their spirit by frowning on anything but regimented, collective fun.
No composer, however bright his genius, can write spiritedly and inspiringly about a collective farm family whose heartside conversation is filled with communist clichés about wheat quotas. Nor can he be convincingly romantic about a boy and girl whose sweet nothings concern the efficiency of a new tractor. A Gershwin seeking a symphony on Moscow's Gorky street would be thrown into despair by the grim face of hopelessness.

COMPOSERS TURN TO YESTERDAY—The Kremlin and its journalistic allies find it scandalous that composers should fashion their stories around life in yesterday's Russia. But the explanation is simple. The shining composers merely take one look at Russia today and give it up as hopeless.

Yet Russia's bosses have a right to be disturbed. Things can't be going well when a people show an unconscious yearning even for those terrible old days under the czar. They had no political philosophy they could call their own in those days, but they were permitted to play hard.

DULL LIVES, DULL MUSIC—It is significant that Pravda et al should complain that dance music based on Russian themes is "unsatisfactory" and on the whole uninteresting. Again, you are not going to make fox-trot history with a tune titled "Moonlight in a Beautiful Lenin-Blessed Socialist Hybrid Cornfield." No wonder Moscow's teen-agers are avid Duke Ellington fans.

Khrushchev and his bully boys no doubt will continue to thunder against erring composers. But it's a losing battle for the state. Music, after all, is only a reflection of how a composer finds life around him, and life around anybody in the Soviet Union is just plain dull.

Views of Others

CIVIL RIGHTS: COALITION OF EXTREMES—As congress recesses for the week-end it looks as if the greatest danger to civil rights legislation is from its most ardent advocates.

Moderates of both parties on the house of representatives judiciary committee are caught between opposing wings of the 35-man committee membership. And President Kennedy is trying to salvage a passable bill.

One bloc, presently dominant, consists of representatives from northern urban constituencies where Negro organizations are driving for an all-out measure.

A smaller bloc with diametrically opposed interests consists of 10 members from southern states. These are joining forces with the advocates of a drastic bill. They are confident that if the committee brings an extreme bill to the floor, a vote of the house membership will sink it for the present session.

In this respect the more zealous advocates of Negro rights are playing into the hands of their enemies. Apparently they would rather have votes at next fall's elections than have helpful, enforceable legislation.

It will be far more constructive if congressmen interested in a statute rather than an issue will join the center group behind a bill embodying essentially the Kennedy administration recommendations.

Three alone go farther than any seriously championed since reconstruction days. Their adoption by the house would mark a step of enormous consequence and present an issue capable of engrossing the senate for weeks if not months.—Christian Science Monitor.

LOSING BATTLE

An old cellar hole beside a grassy, dirt road on a hillside tells a poignant story. Away from the main arteries of cement and macadam you can find them. Early settlers liked home-stands on the hillside, above the "humorous" of damp valleys and safe from early fall frosts that blighted crops.

On mountain shoulders, pioneers built their homes and cleared land for fields and pastures. For several generations, hillside farms were scenes of activity while a new nation was being established. In those cellars, food was stored for the long winters—barrels of apples, piles of potatoes, cabbages, and carrots.

Stand beside a cellar hole on a mellow October day and you are looking at history. Now the cellar is filled with brush and brambles. Perhaps a clump of lilacs still grows by a worn granite doorstep. On the slope behind the house there may be a few old apple trees lifting gaunt, sapling arms to the sky.

It is a losing battle. These thin-soiled hillside were meant for trees, not for farming. Perhaps a century ago, the last of a family line heard the call of rich soil in the midwest or news of gold near the western ocean.

Now the old cellar holes drowse through the turning year. Nature is taking back her own. For a time, man took the land and used it. Nature is never in a hurry, only man is impatient. Old cellar holes are memorials to men and women who fought a good fight.—The Boston Herald.

BOCCACCIO ACCUSED

It took them more than 600 years to do it, but some Italian policemen apparently finally got around to reading the "Decameron" by Giovanni Boccaccio.

Customs officers in Sardinia impounded copies of the book the other day on the charge that it is "pornographic literature." Boccaccio, scholar, diplomat, friend of Petrarch and generally known as the father of classic Italian prose, probably would have enjoyed the incident.

Since 1353 when the "Decameron" first was published in Italy, it has been printed and read throughout much of the civilized world. There are those who have regarded some of the 100 tales as racy, but in comparison with a vast amount of the stuff that passes as literature today, they are dull.

At any rate, the action of the Sardinian customs officials probably will spur sales of the book. It is too bad Boccaccio is not around to collect royalties.—Houston Post.

Dear Sir: My almanac doesn't show the growing season extending clear into November this year. And yet one of our trees shows no signs of losing its leaves and no, it isn't an evergreen.

My problem is what to do about cleaning up the yard this fall. I don't feel like working in the yard and taking leaves when I can see a whole tree of them that haven't even started to fall.

Are we going to have to wait until after the first of the year to get our fall yard-cleaning done this year?

THE DOCTOR SAYS
BY WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Q. I drink enormous quantities of water and have to urinate once or twice every hour.
My doctor says I have diabetes insipidus and that the only thing that can be done to relieve me is injections of pitressin. I am getting tired of sticking myself with a hypodermic needle. Is there any drug that I can take by mouth for this condition?
A. Injections of pitressin have been standard treatment for many years. Recently chlorazotiazide and hydrochlorothiazide tablets have been used to treat this disease. They reduce the amount of water drunk and the quantity of urine by 30 to 50 per cent.

This allows the victim to cut down on the number of injections, but not to stop them altogether. The tablets work best in those whose disease is not controlled by the pitressin. They will not work at all if you are taking cortisone or any of the related hormones.

Incidentally, there is no relation between diabetes insipidus and the commoner diabetes mellitus, usually referred to as just diabetes. In diabetes insipidus there is no sugar in the urine.

Q. I have had a vaginal discharge off and on for many years. My doctor says it is trichomoniasis. His treatment gives me temporary relief, but it always comes back. What can I do to get rid of it?
A. You have what is sometimes referred to as a Pius-pung disease because when a wife is cured she may have passed it on to her husband. He takes treatment but meanwhile has reinfected his wife and so on. Unfortunately even when both husband and wife are treated simultaneously it is often hard to prevent recurrence. A new drug, metronidazole (Flagyl), is now being widely used to combat this disease. Reports are favorable in a large proportion of the patients treated, but recurrences are observed in about 10 per cent. In these patients a second course of treatment with this drug may result in cure.

Q. Is there a definite way to tell whether you are allergic to something? I have spells of sneezing when I come in contact with soap flakes. Does this mean that I am allergic?
A. Have you tried liquid soap?

MARQUIS CHILDS WRITES ON WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8—The strategy of the southern segregationists in their war against the Kennedys and the north is not to be discounted. The goal is to hold change to a bare minimum in the conviction that no other means themselves will be alienated by the tactics of Negro leaders who seek by public demonstrations to make their case.

Thanks to the Marquis Childs one-party system prevailing in most of the South and to seniority, their representatives in congress are strategically placed to delay and obstruct civil rights legislation. The odds at the moment are probably against passage of a civil rights bill at this session. While northern-bickering and bickering have something to do with it, if this is the outcome the southern bloc can take a big share of the credit.

The deepest of the Deep South is Mississippi and there, as this reporter observed recently, the effort is to keep the struggle on a cold-war basis. The visitor is told that everything is fine. If it weren't for a few outside agitators there would be no trouble at all.

Gov. Ross Barnett says Mississippi's industrial development is moving right ahead. If figures provided by the department of going on at the grass roots, Senator Goldwater has been building up a Washington headquarters staff, just as any good candidate should.

Denison Kitchel, who is officially Goldwater's campaign manager for reelection to the U.S. senate, has given up his business in Phoenix and opened an office in Washington, near the Capitol.

The Arizona senator has always been his own one-man brain trust, taking advice from no one. But he is now relying more on a staff of professors being recruited by former-Eisenhower administration lawyer Edward A. McCabe, who has the title of research director.

The stable includes such well-known names as Chicago economist Milton Friedman, Stanford political scientist Stephen Posson, and even a Harvard man, Gottfried Haberler.

The senator has taken on another speech writer, Bill Flythe, in addition to Tony Smith, his press secretary.

A politician doesn't build up a staff of his own like this, or allow one to be built for him, if there's any chance he will announce he won't be a candidate.

The visitor is told of threats and intimidation contributing to fear and suspicion seldom reflected on the deliberately cast outer surface. When Ralph Bunche came to Jackson on United Nations day, when Governor Barnett has refused to recognize, he spoke at a small Negro institution, Tougaloo college. For whites to attend the meeting in the college hall apparently took courage.

The chaplain of Tougaloo is a young white Methodist minister, the Rev. Edwin King, a Mississippi native, educated in the north, he was assigned to the parish in Vicksburg and then elected for his racial views. Tougaloo is integrated, with seven white students attending.

The Rev. Mr. King is running as lieutenant governor with the NAACP leader, Aaron Henry, of Clarksdale in '64. Write-in campaign to show what the Negro strength would be if Negroes were allowed to vote. This might be described as an act of ultimate defiance of the white majority. King speaks quietly of the threatening telephone calls and other acts of intimidation directed against him.

The price of conformity can be high. The Illinois Methodist reported they could find no Mississippi Methodist willing to go to the jail-to-administrator communion to the ministers held there. Finally two Catholic priests took the elements of communion to the jail for use by the ministers.

Are northern whites being alienated by Negro tactics? Lead Gov. Paul Johnson, the liberal Democrat running for governor, says he has had 65,000 letters from every part of the north sympathizing with the segregationist stand. Time, if he accepts this view, is on the side of the resisters.

The small, brown-faced man wearing the insignia of a lieutenant colonel in the South Vietnamese army turned from the military map before him and, with his pointer still in hand, told this correspondent:

"If we get the people with us, then this war is over." In his words there was frank criticism of the handling of the war effort by then President Ngo Dinh Diem and that was one reason his name could not be used in Saigon dispatches. Critics of the regime did not last long in Diem's army.

His name still cannot be used as a director of South Viet Nam's psychological warfare unit, his identity would be of importance to the communist Viet Cong.

But from the beginning he was one of South Viet Nam's young officers who recognized that loyalties of the people eventually would prove more important than guns in the fight to save South Viet Nam from communism.

"Minds and hearts," he called it. The conversation with the colonel of psychological warfare took place a little more than a year ago. Dissatisfaction with President Ngo Dinh Diem was mounting, along with pressure from the communist Viet Cong.

In the years 1954-61 United States aid to South Viet Nam had amounted to 2.5 billion dollars and was to rise still further so that it came to 1.5 billion per year.

The Viet Cong had forced abandonment of 1,000 classrooms and 600 health centers, 20 per cent of the country's total.

In the course of a year, the coastal railway had been cut 500 times.

In one of the greatest rice growing countries of the world, the government was forced to borrow rice to feed the people.

The war in Viet Nam has been called an indigenous war because, regardless of U.S. advisers on the one hand and communist Russian and Chinese aid on the other, it is being fought by Vietnamese. It also has been called two wars, one being fought by day and the other by night.

Fighting on the side of the communists have been some 25,000 regulars, aided by a peasant militia of up to 200,000 and by tell whether you are allergic to something? I have spells of sneezing when I come in contact with soap flakes. Does this mean that I am allergic?

Nothing is his partner can do about it. Once in a while the defender will point out that the 1100-point set he took was really worthwhile because he went on to win the rubber, and actually saved a couple of hundred points. Chicago, or four deal bridge, is likely to cause these gullible defenders to mend their ways. Even their sympathy can't justify an 1100-point set when it ends the game.

On the other hand Chicago does encourage overbidding, with good hands only. The fact that there is a potential bonus on every deal makes rather silly to hang one's chance to cash in on that bonus. Thus, there was no point in South's three no-trump call. He had the barest minimum of points for his opening no-trump. His partner had only rated two and South should have passed and hoped to make eight tricks.

East won the heart-opening suit. Eventually the defense collected four hearts and a spade and South was down one. Strangely enough, South explained about bad luck. He said he looked the fact that spades was out and pointed out that he took a 5-2 heart break to end him the game.

Recreation Center Will Open at Paul

PAUL, Nov. 8—The first recreation center for the village of Paul will open for business Saturday. Located in the building formerly occupied by Hansen's department store in the center of Paul, the new center will be called the Canteen.

It will be operated by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Glover—and will feature a lunch counter, dancing area, shuffle board and pool tables.

Glover, who recently resigned from his job with the village to establish the center, said the purpose of the center is to "keep the children off the streets, who have nothing to do but wander around."

Mrs. Glover noted the lunch counter will be ready on Saturday, but the other features will not be installed until later, as they are temporarily unavailable.

The center will be open from noon until curfew time.

The Glovers have been residents of Paul seven years. He is a native of Burley and she is from California.

Mrs. Glover, who has three children by a previous marriage, said she put them through school by working at a cafe.

Her son, the Rev. Patrick David Huston, recently was assigned his first church in Seattle, Wash.; a daughter, Mrs. Ralph (Shirley) Martin, is working at and attending the University of Wyoming, studying to care for underprivileged children. Her husband is also working towards his BA degree. The youngest daughter, Mrs. William Fisher, is a housewife.

A grand opening for the Canteen will be held after the first of the year.

In former years, this building has been the location of a movie theater, skating rink and athletic center.

Boys 'Own' Pheasant That Crash-Landed Just One Day

BURLEY, Nov. 8—A rooster pheasant which crashed into trees at the William Jones home, 1319 Almo avenue, Wednesday afternoon caused two young boys some "pleasant" excitement, at least for a day.

When the bird hit the ground the chase was on for Steve Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones, and Bob Randklev, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Randklev. The rooster just its tail feathers trying to get away, but the young hunters captured it.

A cage was constructed from a cardboard box and chicken wire was placed over the top.

The boys thoughtfully phoned their mothers, who were at Bill Jones Automotive, telling them the big news.

"It is a real surprise to see a live pheasant in your own living room, even when you have been told that it's there," Mrs. Jones said.

The pheasant, which did not stay in civilization long enough to receive a name, spent a peaceful night Wednesday eating grain and drinking water.

Thursday its proud owners carried it to Miller school where they are fifth graders. The boys showed their prize to every room in the school, which has approximately 500 students.

But as they were returning home from school the pheasant, apparently getting a view of the blue sky, forgot its benefactors, lunged through the chicken wire covering the "cage" and flew away.

The boys sadly reported when last seen the rooster was flying south.

FRANKFURT, Germany, Nov. 8 (AP)—Exercise "Big Lift," in which 15,000 troops were flown from Texas to Germany for combat maneuvers, exposed a need for replacing old U. S. army equipment stored on the continent for use in emergencies, military commanders said today.

The maneuvers, following the biggest and fastest trans-ocean military airlift ever undertaken, ended this week and the second armored-division will start flying home to Ft. Hood, Tex., next Tuesday.

Two American soldiers — one from Ft. Hood and one stationed in Europe — were killed in Jeep accidents during the exercise.

POCATELLO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Federal Judge Fred M. Taylor today granted a preliminary injunction preventing a Pocatello man from selling further stock in a trailer court venture. Defendant in the action, E. Eugene Whitcomb, agreed to the restraining order. Representatives of the U. S. securities and exchange commission, which asked the injunction, also asked for a delay on their request for injunctions against two other men involved. The SEC spokesman said Paul White, Phoenix, Ariz., had not been served with notice of the hearing in time to be here, and a third defendant, Robert D. Spaworth, Colorado Springs, Colo., had not been located. Judge Taylor agreed to a delay.

POCATELLO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Pocatello television station KTFB plans to resume commercial broadcasting in the near future, possibly as early as next week. Mrs. Gloria Dillard, director, told the Chamber of Commerce board. Mrs. Dillard said the station plans 40 percent live telecasts with local talent and programming, pending possible network affiliation which she predicted would be available in four to six months. The station will operate at first with a skeleton staff and will be on the air from 6 to 10 or 10:30 p.m., until business justifies expansion. Independent stations in some instances have been able to operate in the black, she said, and KTFB hopes to do so until it obtains a network affiliation. The station ceased commercial operation in January, 1962, after NBC withdrew its program.

BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Boise Chamber of Commerce said today it will submit a formal application to the state Republican committee requesting that the 1964 state GOP convention be held in the Capital City. Dick Hughes, executive secretary of the Republican state central committee, said earlier that bids have already been received from Pocatello, Lewiston, Twin Falls and Idaho Falls. Deadline for acceptance of bids is today. The committee's executive board will meet in Pocatello Nov. 16 to go over the bids and make recommendations. The final decision will be made through mail ballots.

POCATELLO, Nov. 8 (AP)—The secretary of the American Federation of Teachers says the union may have missed an ideal opportunity to increase its membership in Idaho. IDAHO FALLS, Nov. 8 (AP)—City Clerk Roy C. Barnes said today it was regrettable that some qualified residents were denied the right to vote in Tuesday's municipal election. He blamed it on insufficiently trained election workers. "We have had problems along these lines in other elections, too," Barnes said. He said he had received about half a dozen complaints from registered voters who were not allowed to vote, but said this was comparatively minor when 10,000 voted.

Magic Valley Cancer Leaders Attend Session in Twin Falls

Leaders of American Cancer society units in Magic Valley counties attended an all-day workshop at the Roundup room in the Rogerson hotel Thursday.

Topics discussed at the session, conducted by James Worsley, executive director, and Mrs. Beulah Martin, assistant director of the Idaho division, included unit organization, public education, service program, crusade and memorials.

Division board members attending included Vic Fliflet, Twin Falls, and Dr. Marion Klingler, Gooding, district medical director.

It was reported that out of $127,357 raised for cancer control in Idaho last year, $81,484 went for research, $31,889 for public education, $12,941 for professional education and $21,372 for service to cancer patients.

Services offered by the Idaho division include patient transportation, patient maintenance, dressings, support of tumor boards, nursing service and loan closets, Worsley said.

Financial aid for these items and loan closet materials are available to the cancer patient only by the physician's certification either through the county representatives of the society or to the division office, Boise, Worsley pointed out.

Dressings and loan closet items were displayed at the workshop in addition to posters depicting the seven danger signals for cancer detection.

The importance of presenting this information during the fund raising drive in April was stressed.

Audio-visual teaching aids and publications available for use in schools were explained. These are available from the division office.

Mrs. Martin pointed out films on cancer education are available through the county units and clubs and organizations are invited to request them.

Worsley also discussed the use of memorials, which are contributions given in memory of persons dying from cancer. He urged the county leaders attending to identify their local unit in sending the acknowledgement cards. Ways to expand the understanding of memorials were discussed.

Stocks

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Stocks finished with their best gain of the week today, buoyed mostly by a bullish business-news backdrop.

Gains in Aerospace issues continued to dominate the list, still responding to reports that Russia's not out of the moon race. Among the upside leaders in this group were United Aircraft, Grumman, North American Aviation, Lockheed, McDonnell, Bechtel, Control Data, Texas Instruments, IBM and Motorola.

Drugs also put in a good showing with Merck, Carter Products, Johnson and Johnson and Richardson-Merrell among the pointed gains. Chrysler advanced in a mixed motor session. Du Pont, Allied, Olin Mathieson and Union Carbide were up fractions to a point in the chemicals.

The economic news backdrop included record auto output, higher retail sales, slightly higher freight carloadings, and a series of dividend boosts. In this last category, Xerox, which proposed a 5-for-1 stock split and doubled its dividend, was up more than 10.

Alcoa moved higher in the metals reflecting an announcement that it is stepping up aluminum output in response to "continuing improvement in demand." Reynolds also improved.

Texaco and Amerasia featured the upside in the oils, the latter on higher earnings.

Holly and South Puerto Rico moved higher in the sugar department. Norfolk and Western and Chicago, Rock Island helped buoy a higher rail session. Delta and National advanced in the airlines. Many featured the store gains.

The Daily Investor

By WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. Is it true that if I sell some stock I have owned for more than six months, I pay federal income taxes only on 50 per cent of the profit?

A. Yes. That's the regulation, but this requires some explanation.

If you sell stocks, bonds or any other "capital assets" at a higher price than you paid for them, you have a profit—a capital gain.

If you owned the stock for six months or less, your profit is a short-term capital gain. You add it all to your ordinary income and pay income tax on it, just as you would on your other ordinary income—salaries, etc.

But, if you owned the stock for more than six months, your profit is a long-term capital gain. You add only half of it to your ordinary income and pay taxes on the total amount.

This has the effect of cutting the tax on your long-term capital gains to half that of the tax on your ordinary income. For instance, if you are in the 25 per cent federal income tax bracket, the tax on your long-term capital gains is actually only 12 1/2 per cent.

Of course, by adding half of your total capital gains to your other reportable income, you normally do put yourself in a somewhat higher tax bracket.

But, once you are in a high tax bracket, you use a somewhat different formula on your long-term capital gains. If your tax bracket is 50 per cent or higher, you report half of your long-term capital gains as such and pay half of that as taxes.

Half of one-half is one-quarter, or 25 per cent. This, effectively, puts a 25 per cent limit on long-term capital-gains taxes.

However, there are the rules as they now apply. The "Kenny tax bill," now pending in the Senate, would change the law.

Under the proposed law, you would pay taxes on your long-term capital gains as such and pay half of that as taxes on the total amount.

But there's no way of knowing just how the tax law will stand when the bill is finally passed into law.

Q. I am a long-term investor. I question the advisability of the continuing to keep some of the stock I now hold. But I hesitate to sell because I would then have to pay taxes on my capital gains. What general guidelines would you suggest on which to base my decisions?

A. Because of the proposed changes in federal tax laws concerning capital gains, it might be wise to wait to see what changes are finally written into law.

However, if you were willing to ignore taxes and few of us can afford to do that, the best way to look at any investment is the following:

If you own something (stocks or anything else) you are not happy with, sell it and put your money into something that you feel is right for you.

The trick, of course, is to pick something that will be better for you—and there's no sure method of doing that.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

(AP Business News Analyst)

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Will tightening of credit in the stock market mean further tightening of business and consumer credits and higher interest rates?

The same agency that raised the federal reserve board, also pulled the strings in the other lines, dear or easy money.

Lower or higher rates, and these are not a new thing, can affect many.

Sam Dawson, more people and businesses than just the traders on margin in the stock market.

Snaps judgment of bond traders was that the stock market ruling did mean tighter credit elsewhere, sooner or later. And bond sales volume Wednesday was the highest in months.

Most bond prices were lower, meaning yields from the fixed-interest securities were higher, in line with tighter credit expectations.

But there was a strong market for bonds shortly to mature as they might be wanted by stock traders preserving their margin accounts with brokers now that new stock purchases require 70 per cent cash instead of 50 per cent.

Such bonds could come in handy for additional security, as required.

The board doesn't telegraph its credit punches.

It chose Tuesday, election day, when the New York exchanges were closed, to raise the margins.

Wall Street had been braced for some such action because of the rising volume of credit used in stock dealings, the frenzied activities of stocks favored by speculators, and the generally rising prices and volume of trading.

But even so, choosing of Tuesday for the announcement surprised many traders. And Wednesday saw a large volume of trading in stocks with the traditional, even if temporary, drop in prices.

And the board doesn't announce ahead of time that it's going to raise the bank discount rate—usually meaning higher interest rates elsewhere, especially for short-term borrowing; nor when it will change the amount of reserves member banks must keep with the federal banks, meaning tighter money, usually making it harder and costlier to borrow either short or long-term.

But other Washington officials have been at some pains in recent days to indicate they think the degree of tightness in the money markets now is just what the domestic economy and the international payments situation needs.

Some observers, therefore, think the board's action Tuesday was just what it said it was: a clampdown on rising volume of speculative stock trading on credit. If so, other credits may be affected only psychologically—as witness Wednesday's bond market.

Charge of Wall Street Hours In Senate Touches Off Row

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—A charge that senate leaders are maintaining Wall Street hours of 12 to 5 while legislation is dragging and lagging touched off a lively row yesterday.

It began even before the regular 12 o'clock convening time when Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R., Ill., accused Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D., Conn., who voiced the complaint against short hours, of cerebral incoherence.

"If you want night sessions, we'll keep you here, and then you will know what's going on," Dirksen shouted at Dodd

Sharkey Says Clay Can Defeat Liston by Making Him Press

EPHING, N. H., Nov. 8 (AP)—The peaceable Squire of Epping says the best way to hunt an ugly old bear is to make the bear come after you. Then you can bop him at your leisure. And, Squire Jack Sharkey points out, Cassius Clay can beat that ugly old bear if he does just that. Sharkey, former heavyweight champion, now 61 and aging gracefully, said Thursday that to call the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight "a mismatch" is silly.

Las Vegas Has Good Chance To Host Fight

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Nov. 8 (AP)—Sonny Liston's adviser says Las Vegas "stands as good a chance as any other city" to play host to the Liston-Cassius Clay heavy-weight title fight in February.

Jack Nilon came to Las Vegas from Denver Wednesday to talk to local promoters.

"Las Vegas has not made an official bid yet," Nilon said. "But if the price is right, it stands as good a chance as any other city. The fact that it is a small area to black out for closed-circuit television is in its favor."

The blackout factor gives Las Vegas an advantage over larger cities. To draw a big live gate, the promoters usually avoid television coverage in a 150-mile radius around the host city.

Two Los Angeles groups have offered million-dollar guarantees for the fight. A Denver promoter has offered 12 million dollars.

In Las Vegas, the Dunes hotel has said it would guarantee a $500,000 live gate. The Thunderbird hotel upped it to $550,000.

"I don't see why they're calling it a mismatch," he said.

"It should be a good fight. It's certainly going to be a good match financially, the interest in the gate should be tremendous."

"And no matter what you fellows write about this Clay, about his loud mouth and all, you've got to remember he's very fast and he can box. And he's smart enough, too."

Sharkey said he doesn't think there's any other possible match for Clay—except Floyd Patterson, "and no one even knows if he's going to fight again."

"Who else is there? He's fought all those other guys, and even if some of them weren't very good, at least he's been active," the ex-champ pointed out.

No added:

"You know, they had a few things to say about me when I was fighting, too. But no one really knows anything at all about a match like this until the fight."

But these moves were not official.

Chicago, Minneapolis, Louisville and Miami are other possibilities.

Liston retained his title over Floyd Patterson in Las Vegas last July.

Bupers Has Chance to Win

CAMDEN, N. J., Nov. 8 (AP)—A yearling whose breeder wouldn't put up the $250 to keep him eligible for the Garden State stakes is rated a good chance to take the race's record winning purse of $191,574 Saturday.

Ogden Phipps not only decided to pay the $250 for Bupers, but later sold the colt for $16,500.

Pappas Makes Offer To Manage Orioles

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Milt Pappas offered today to take over as manager of the Baltimore Orioles and end speculation over who will handle the baseball club next season. The brash 24-year-old pitcher admitted he hasn't been approached by Oriole General Manager Lee MacPhail. But his tongue-in-cheek proposal included these qualifications:

1. "I've had more major league experience as a player than some of the men being considered for the manager's job."
  2. "I have background as a manager... with a winning record."
  3. "I would save the club money because my combined pay as player-manager would be less than for both me and the new manager. And the front office wouldn't have to make long distance telephone calls during the winter, since I live in Baltimore."
  4. "Everyone said the Orioles need color. I'd give it to them by going back to my original name—Miltindis Papasteggios. Even Casey Stengel can't top that one."
- "I had a dream the other night," Pappas said. "We won the World series, and for the first time in history the same person won the Most Valuable Player and Manager of the Year awards. It was me."
- As for Jim Gentile, Jack Brundt and Jerry Adair—mentioned as possible trade bait—Pappas said he would want all of them in his starting lineup, with Gentile the playing captain.
- "We'd have a loose club," Pappas said. "We wouldn't have a curfew. Maybe the players wouldn't be happy... but they'd be tired."
- Pappas said he wouldn't sign anything less than a seven-year contract, so he would have security as a player in the unlikely event he would be fired as manager.
- The long-term stipulation may give MacPhail the out he needs, in case he doesn't want to sign the budding managerial genius.

Western Grid Fans in for Surprises

By The Associated Press
This being one of the wackiest college football seasons in many an autumn, far West football fans might as well get geared for further shocks and surprises. This week's schedule of top games: Stanford at Southern California, Washington at California, Oregon at Washington State, Oregon State at Indiana, UCLA at Air Force and Arizona State at San Jose State.

Washington, a humbling 22-7 winner over Southern Cal., is firmly established in the Big Six conference for the Rose bowl. But California clawed out a surprisingly easy 25-0 victory over UCLA and the Huskies cannot afford a let-down.

Stanford and Southern Cal.'s Trojan present a study in the unpredictable. Stanford lost to Oregon State, which was no real surprise, but the tussle in Los Angeles may depend upon which team is the more depressed.

Oregon was tripped by San Jose State 13-7, and unless the Webfoos' Mel Renfro and Bob Berry can return to action and are healthy, Washington State doeses lead.

Oregon State meets an Indiana team which suddenly found itself, snatching Minnesota last week, 24-0.

Golf Book Names Rookies of Year

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Raymond Floyd, a 200-pounder from Fayetteville, N.C., and Clifford Ann Creed, the mighty mite of women's golf, were named as pro golf's rookies of the year by Golf Digest magazine.

Floyd, 20, won his first big tournament at St. Petersburg, Fla., last March only three months after he made his first start as a pro. He was the youngest winner of an official PGA tournament since the late Horton Smith in 1928.

Mrs. Creed, 25, turned pro in October, 1962. Since then she has compiled the best first-year playing record in Ladies PGA history, winning money in all but one of her 1963 tournaments. Her prize money for the year will be over $10,000.

Cannon Is Placed On Injured List

HOUSTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Houston halfback Billy Cannon, who has carried the ball only 13 times this season, returned to his right ankle Thursday and was again placed on the American Football League's injury-deferred list by the Oilers. Cannon must be kept on the list a minimum of two weeks.

Cannon, the former Louisiana State All-America and Heisman Trophy winner, grabbed the AFL's rushing title in 1961 with 948 yards gained, but has been hobbled by injuries since that time. Last year a bad back hampered his efficiency and he gained only 474 yards.

This year, he has been in only three of the Oilers' nine games, gaining 45 yards.

Chicago Nets 2-2 Tie With Canadiens

MONTREAL, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks and Montreal Canadiens fought to a 2-2 tie Thursday night in a National Hockey League game in which play ranged from rough to vicious.

There were two major penalties for board-checking. Two Montreal players retired at different times because of injuries.

All the scoring was done in the first two periods.

Dave Balon scored both Montreal goals each time while the Hawks were shorthanded.

The Hawks did their scoring the hard way when they were "man down." Stan Mikita tipped in a shot in the first period and Eric Nesterenko raced in on a clear breakaway to score in the second.

Montreal's Billy Hicke took the count when Bobby Hull barged into him in the second and Hicke was tossed into the boards. Hull was given a major penalty.

Hicke had 12 stitches taken in a cut on the right side of his forehead. He also suffered a mild concussion.

Teams Eyed

HOUSTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The executive director of the annual Bluebonnet bowl said Thursday several teams are under consideration for the football classic Dec. 21 in Rice university stadium.

Lou Hassell said four teams from the Southwest conference—Texas, Baylor, Rice and Arkansas—are under consideration. The winner of the conference race is committed to the Cotton bowl in Dallas, but Hassell said the runnerup will be a strong candidate for the host spot in the Bluebonnet bowl.

Rosburg Is Sinatra Golf Play Leader

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Nov. 8 (AP)—Bob Rosburg, who hasn't won a golf tournament in nearly three years, shot a four-under-par 67 today and took a narrow first-round lead in the $50,000 Frank Sinatra Invitational open.

Rosburg, hitting all his putts through 14 holes, finished one stroke ahead of Frank Beard, a 24-year-old Kentuckian who turned professional a year ago.

At 69, one stroke behind Beard, were Bill Casper, Dave Hill, Dow Finsterwald, Tommy Bolt and Bobby Nichols. A stroke farther back were Don Essig, Gene Littler, Terry Wilcox, Tommy Aaron and Floyd Ray.

Fourteen players shot even-par 71's, making a total of 28 who matched or bettered par on the new Canyon Country club course.

Tony Lema, the fourth-ranking money winner on the 1963 PGA tour and the biggest money maker to enter this tournament, shot a 76 and was in danger of failing to make the 36-hole cut Friday. The cut is expected to fall at 148 or 149.

Green Bay's Kramer Proves to Be Kicker

GREEN BAY, Wis., Nov. 8 (AP)—They laughed when guard Jerry Kramer lined up to do a little place kicking for the Green Bay Packers. So did he. That was midway in the 1962 season when Kramer won the title, "The best knuckleball kicker in the National Football league."

But a year has passed, and now Kramer leads the league with 15 field goals and is second in scoring with 71 points, all of them scored with his tie. He's only a point behind the scoring leader, Cleveland fullback, Jim Brown, who has scored 12 touchdowns.

Kramer is still laughing.

"That's one for Ripley's Believe It or Not," Kramer said Thursday. "Imagine me leading the league. Why, a couple of weeks ago I couldn't even remember how many I kicked."

Kramer, who also is one of Green Bay's quickest, and hardest hitting offensive guards, said he has no goals—"I'll just keep kicking and see what happens."

Something will. He's only one short of the Packer field goal record set by Fred Cone in 1955. It was an injury to Paul Hornung, who kicked 15 field goals in each of the 1960 and 1961 seasons, that started Kramer's kicking last year. With Hornung suspended this year, Kramer kept on kicking.

After missing three attempts in a game five weeks ago, Kramer has booted 12 field goals, ranging from 12 to 46 yards.

He explained the surge saying, "I'm keeping my eye on the ball. All it takes is concentration."

He had his best game last Sunday, hitting four field goals in as many attempts as the Packers defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers. The league record for a single game is five.

"If I'd known that," said Kramer, "I'd have turned around and tackled Elijah Pitts on his last touchdown run."

Kramer, one of the few line-men who does his team's kicking, says the wear and tear of leading the Packer interference doesn't make any difference.

"When the teams are changing personnel for a field goal, I have a chance to get a second breathing he said.

Banks Faces Court Charge

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—First baseman Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs was ordered Thursday to appear Nov. 20 in superior court to show cause why he should not be held in contempt.

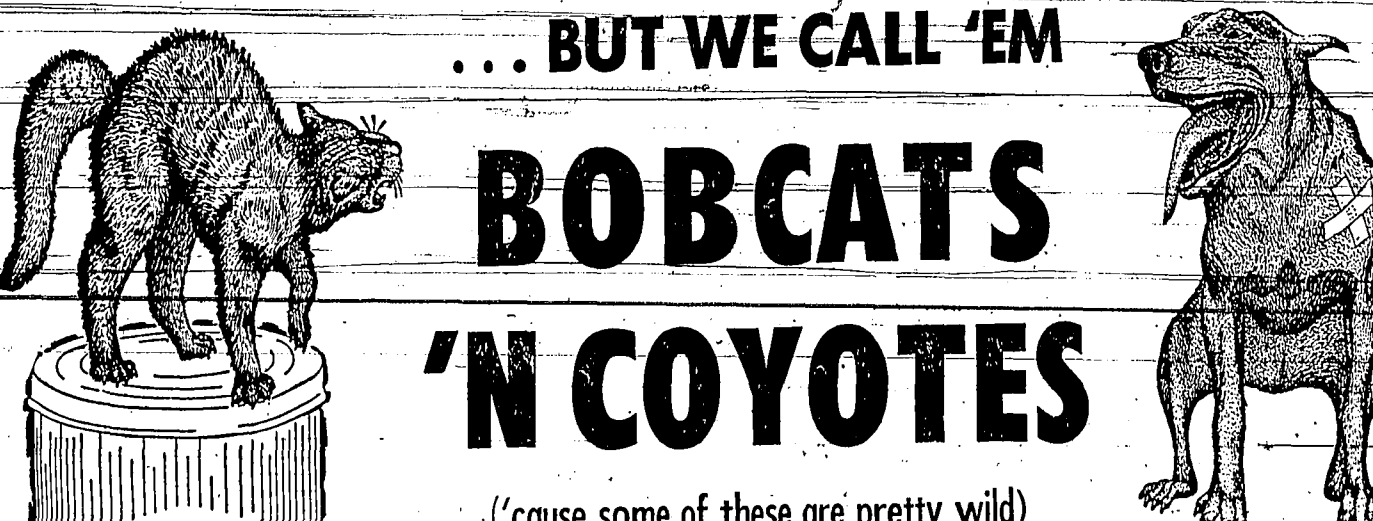

The order followed a petition filed for Mrs. Molly Banks, former wife of the baseball star. Banks has since remarried.

The petition said Banks in addition to making a cash settlement of $31,000, was to place in escrow a $30,000 life insurance policy. It alleged that Banks failed to deposit the policy and that it now has lapsed.

Nagle Shoots 6-Under Par, Leads Match

—SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 8 (AP)—Australia's Kel Nagle fired a 6-under-par 67 Thursday for the first round lead in the 72-hole Wills Masters Golf tournament, taking a one-stroke lead over Arnold Palmer and a whopping seven-stroke lead over Jack Nicklaus.

Nagle started Australia's biggest tournament, $8,000 in prize money, with three birdies and added four more before finishing the round over the 6,618-yard, par 72 Lake course.

Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., highlighted his round with an eagle three at the 490-yard 13th hole, and wound up trailing Nagle by only one stroke after a 34-34 round. But America's other hope, Nicklaus, ran into difficulty.

The Columbus, O., strongboy, who recently led the United States to the Canada cup team title with Palmer, and took home the individual crown, started the rounds with three putts greens for a 36-38 card.

Another American, Ron Howell of Washington, D.C., who has been playing in Australia for the last two months, had a 71.

Gary Player of South Africa came in at 70.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8 (AP)—Pittsburgh is primed for an all-out effort against the Cleveland Browns Sunday before Pittsburgh's largest pro crowd, 55,000—and a Steeler victory would turn the Eastern conference race of the National Football league into a wild scramble. The lead changed hands seven times when they met Oct. 5 in Cleveland, where Frank Ryan thrilled 84,684 fans with three touch-down passes in the Browns' come-from-behind 35-23 victory.

NCAA Ok's Controlled TV Programs

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 8 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association has again voted overwhelmingly for a controlled football television program but has approved certain changes for 1964-65 seasons.

Walter Byers, NCAA executive director, said today main features of the 1964-65 plan will not vary from the current program. There again will be 14 college football television dates on 13 Saturday afternoons and Thanksgiving day.

However, there will be an increase in games telecast regionally, to 20 from this year's 15. Total games televised will go from 24 to 29.

Nine of the 14 dates in each of the next two seasons will have a single nationally televised game while the five others each will have four regional telecasts compared to three this year.

Other changes include: Reservation of a December Saturday following the close of the television series for possible televising of college division playoff games being organized by the NCAA.

Complete freedom of college division teams to televise their games during the season. This represents an extension of telecasting privilege from local areas to all areas.

Requirement of appearance each year by at least 17 different colleges. This year the figure is 37.

Lions Try to Get Layne Out Of Retirement

DETROIT, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Detroit Lions recently tried to lure Bobby Layne out of retirement, Coach George Wilson said Thursday.

The former great quarterback declined, saying he did not think he could help the Lions.

Wilson said Layne was approached three weeks ago when the Lions were floundering with three losses in five National Football league games. The club also was riddled by injuries and neither quarterback Milt Plum nor Earl Morrall was able to get the team rolling.

Layne, who finished his career with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is in his first season of retirement.

Wilson said Layne was asked to rejoin the Lions "because I thought he might be able to give us a lift."

"I don't know if Bobby could have played even if we had gotten him," Wilson said. "But just having him around would have helped."

Before being traded to Pittsburgh in 1958, Layne led the Lions to three Western division titles and two NFL championships.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By BOB REESE

It was one of the most famous trials of the country, and debate over it rocked the nation. Tennessee had passed a law forbidding the teaching of evolution in public schools. An obscure teacher named John T. Scopes had defied the law. Now he was on trial.

The attorney for the defense was the most famous criminal lawyer of his time. Clarence Darrow. Opposing him for the prosecution was an even more famous name . . . William Jennings Bryan.

Bryan, now an old man, was still eloquent. He built his case around a literal interpretation of the Bible, stoutly maintaining that Eve had literally been formed from a rib of Adam, and that the world had been created exactly 4,000 years before.

Darrow was equally persuasive for the defense . . . but when the two famous lawyers had finished and the verdict came in, Bryan had won his case. Scopes was found guilty.

Remember the year? There were great debates in those days over cars, too, and over the merits of the roadster and the closed sedan. But when it came to buying a car, you could not be persuaded by a silver tongue. He wanted real savings.

The year was 1925.

FAMILY STYLE RANCH DINNERS SUNDAY

Along Fences and Canals

Carl Carnahan, Martin Woodward, Ray Mitchell, Jonathan Earl, Kenneth Jones and Tom Chaffin harvested alfalfa seed at the ranch of the late Charles Parish, near King Hill. Mrs. Carnahan cooked dinner for the crew.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sweet have a large new home under construction on their farm southeast of Fairfield on the Gooding-Fairfield highway. In addition to farming, Sweet is principal of the grade school in Fairfield.

Willie Wilson has started construction of a new home for himself on one of his places northeast of Fairfield. He has been residing in a tenant house on this place since his home on the upper home place was destroyed by fire a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Jones are finishing a large metal barn on their farm northwest of Corral. They recently completely remodeled their home and have also added a new hay shed and rebuilt their corral and loading chute.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roney and son Charles have purchased a small acreage northwest of Shoshone and will be making their home here. They are from Olney, Ill., but previously lived north of Shoshone.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Tadlock and family are moving to their newly purchased ranch southeast of Buhl. They have lived on the Sims farm north of Shoshone for a number of years. A farm sale will be held prior to their move.

Joe Pachner, Glenns Ferry, has finished combining milo at the Wiley Pink ranch and the Rodney Ruberry farm, south of King Hill. Ruberry has almost finished digging his 14 acres of beets. The rain the past few days has hindered the operation of work in the fields.

Beet harvest operations in the west end are about 70 per cent complete, according to R. M. (Bob) Peterson, Buhl, field man for Amalgamated Sugar company. Peterson noted the crop is very good this year and yield is above average. To date 46,000 tons of sugar beets have been unloaded at the Cedar crossing beet dump.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Brown, Buhl, have sold their ranch in the Deep creek area to Walter Huft, Buhl, and have now moved to the farm the ranch owned by Mrs. Selma Johnson, four and one-half miles southeast of Buhl.

The millhouse on the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Jack B. Allen, Buhl, has been renovated by Allen. He installed a hot water tank and a 250-gallon bulk milk tank and also completed an elevated walkthrough in his barn.

Quincy Bronson and son, Springdale, have finished trucking their calves in from their ranch on Clear creek this week.

John Humphreys, Corral sawmill operator, had the end of his left index finger cut off Sunday afternoon in a metal cutting lathe in his farm shop. He stated that he was cutting a keyway and was trying to brush out the filings when the accident happened.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Allen, attended a quarter horse sale in Ogden, Utah, Thursday. George Allen raises quarter horses at his farm south of King Hill and took horses to the sale.

Bob Baple, Muldoon, brought his farming equipment from Muldoon this week to the home ranch of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Baple, King Hill. He is preparing the work at the Muldoon ranch so he can start bringing their band of sheep out before the snow comes. They will trail the sheep out of the Muldoon country, and will arrive at the home ranch here in time for lambing operations.

Entomologist Comments on Cattle Grub Infestations

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, Moscow, Nov. 8.—Now is the time to control cattle grubs, according to Leonard Portman, University of Idaho extension entomologist.

Two species of cattle grubs eat cattle in Idaho and the northern United States. The northern heel fly or bomb fly is the common heel fly.

However, Portman reported, both species are killed with the same materials, whether it is DDT or rotenone for beef animals. DDT and rotenone are systemic and beef animals can be sprayed or the material can be used as a pour-on applied to the top line of the animal's back.

Rotenone is a powdered insecticide and can be used as a dust.

Portman emphasizes that regardless of method, the material must be worked into the animal's hide. Rotenone must come into contact with the grub to be effective. A stiff brush does a good job of working the material down through the hair.

These treatments are necessary, repeated a month apart. Both the northern heel fly and the common heel fly damage the animal and hide in the same manner. However, their methods of laying eggs are considerably different.

MOISTURE METER IS examined by Myron Dossett, snow surveyor, on top of the Salmon Falls creek watershed near Hummingbird springs. Moisture readings in the soil aid forecasters in predicting the amount of water in the mountains. (Times-News photo)

Moisture on Salmon Tract Watershed Improved as Snow Team Checks Area

Moisture in the higher elevations appears to be fair, or somewhat improved over last year's reading taken on the first day of November, reports Myron Dossett, soil conservation service snow surveyor.

On Nov. 1 there was a slight amount of snow at Jarbridge, Bear creek meadows, Pole creek ranger station and Hummingbird springs. Bear creek meadows, one of the highest moisture stations on the Salmon Falls creek watershed, measured a minor increase in moisture content in the first few feet of penetration.

Soil moisture is measured at pre-determined stations by soil conservation snow surveyors. A soil moisture station is simply a pipe placed in the ground. The cap over the pipe is removed to reveal a series of wires. The wires are connected to an electrode apparatus buried at a measured depth in the soil.

A small portable meter reading box is taken to the moisture station. The ground wire is attached to the wires inside the pipe from the moisture meter. Then the snow surveyor takes a second wire and works a pattern over the electrodes to determine the moisture content in the soil at certain depths. A third wire is connected to determine the temperature of the soil at the same depth.

The fact there is or is not snow on the ground is not sufficient evidence that the mountain will yield water. A considerable amount of water can come from a mountain with very little snow cover. By knowing how much moisture there is in the mountain, a fairly accurate estimate can be made of how much water it will yield. Considerable history is necessary to make these forecasts.

A dry mountain with little moisture in the soil can absorb a large amount of the snow cover, yielding little for creeks, irrigation and domestic use.

Thus, the moisture station plays almost as big a role in forecasting water supply as the snow measurements.

According to Dossett, snow surveying and moisture reading were pioneered on the Salmon Falls creek watershed. Some of the oldest stations on record are in the mountains south of Twin Falls.

Sheep Killed

SPRINGDALE, Nov. 8.—Nine sheep were killed by dogs at the M. H. Manning farm in Springdale last week-end. The animals, part of the ranch flock of purebred Suffolks, were valued at $450.

Sheriff H. O. Farrell said when he arrived at the Manning ranch two of the Suffolks ewes were dead and two more dying. The other five were badly torn.

Sheriff Farrell said he has notified sheepmen they have the right to shoot any dog found on their property if it is molesting their livestock.

Owners of dogs destroying livestock are liable for the damages, the officer added.

Dairy Herd Report Given

RICHFIELD, Nov. 8.—The Richfield Dairy Herd Improvement association lists 24 high producing cows for October. The group averaged over 60 pounds of butterfat for the month.

Top producers were Sholley, owned by Harold Pridmore with 80.08 pounds, and Alice, owned by Everett Ward, 74.04 pounds.

Pridmore had five cows in the top bracket. Bruce Sorenson, two, Ralph Riley, Jr., Odell Chaffin and Ward, three each; Roger Freeman, Grant Stevens and Dee Wolverton, two each, and L. E. McClintock and Sterling King, one each.

Odell Chaffin had the highest producing herd for the month with 1,102 pounds of milk per cow and 38.02 pounds of butterfat per cow. He has a herd of 29 milk cows.

The November DHIA meeting was held Monday night at the Norman Rogers residence. Clifford Ward and Nelson Ricks, cheese factory manager, Richfield, answered dairymen's questions during the program.

Wheat Leader Scores CCC Subsidizing

SEATTLE, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Pacific Northwest Grain Export Association says the U.S. agriculture department is subsidizing California ports in connection with grain shipments.

W. H. Fisher, association president, said Tuesday the group had protested a notice issued by the regional office of the commodity credit corporation in Portland.

The notice indicated hard red winter wheat sold by the CCC for export in California would be priced two cents per bushel lower than the CCC export price in the Pacific Northwest, Fisher said.

The pricing differential reflects the current difference in ocean freight between California and the Northwest to North Atlantic countries, the notice read.

In a telegram to the agriculture department, Fisher said the action "could lead to eventual distortion of relative values between various coastal areas."

"In our view, this is an outright subsidy of California ports, which by reason of location and relative inefficiency sometimes suffer freight penalties."

Fresh Vegetable Supply To Be Smaller in 1963

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The agriculture department says supplies of vegetables for fresh sale this fall are moderately smaller than a year ago, but only slightly below the 1957-61 average.

In a review of the vegetable situation, the department said production of broccoli, Brussels sprouts, cucumbers and lettuce is expected to be larger than in 1962. Output of all other major fresh vegetables, however, is less than a year ago.

The department said that with smaller supplies and a prospective strong consumer demand, prices likely will average moderately higher this fall than last.

The department said canned vegetable supplies in the 1963-64 season probably will be slightly smaller than last season, but substantially above average. Supplies of frozen vegetables are slightly smaller than last season.

Retail prices of canned vegetables are expected to average slightly above the relatively low prices of a year earlier. Among major canned commodities, prices of snap beans, peas, corn and tomatoes likely will average higher. Prices of sweet corn and most tomato items probably will

Feed Grain Exports Move At High Rate

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—

The department of agriculture said feed grain exports are expected to continue heavy in 1963-64, more than 16 million tons were exported, only slightly below the 1961-62 record of 17.3 million tons.

Larger supplies of feed grains and low quality wheat in Western Europe, may cause feed grain exports to fall slightly below the high level of the past two years. But they are expected to continue well above exports for any year prior to 1961-62.

The total corn supply for 1963-64 is expected to be about 5.2 billion bushels. This is slightly above the 1962-63 supply, but nearly 400 million bushels below the record supply of 1960.

But a 15 per cent reduction in Florida watermelon plantings is recommended for next spring.

The acreage-marketing guides are designed to help growers plan for a balance between production and market requirements for each commodity.

First Spuds Harvested On New Land Near Carey

HAILEY, Nov. 8 (AP)—Don and Wayne Baldwin have completed the harvest of 56 acres of potatoes on their ranch in the Silver Creek area. The potatoes were planted on land filed on by them under the desert act a year ago.

It is located in a cove to the north of state highway 23, across the road from their main ranch, at the foot of the Carey hill. This ground had been dry farmed by George Silvers many years ago, but had grown back to sagebrush.

After removing the brush and fencing the land this spring, they applied 300 pounds of nitrogen phosphate to the acre and covered the land with barnyard manure.

They installed a pump which carries 200 inches of water 300 feet from a ditch at the foot of the hill, raising it 70 feet to a canal which runs along the upper rim of their field.

In addition to watering their potatoes, from this ditch, they have brought it across the highway and use the water to irrigate an additional 100 acres of land on their main ranch, which this year they planted to alfalfa and mixed grains.

STOCK IS DOWN
BOISE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Total wheat stocks for Oregon, Washington and northern Idaho on Oct. 1 were estimated at 100,845,000 bushels, a drop of 10 per cent from last year.

Surplus Wheat Sale to Russia Will Be Top Item on Farm Bureau Agenda

CHICAGO, Nov. 8 (AP)—Sale of surplus U.S. farm commodities to communist countries is expected to be one of the issues discussed at the 45th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation here Dec. 8-12.

As the voting delegates of the member state Farm Bureaus from 49 states and Puerto Rico meet to adopt policy resolutions for 1964, other issues to be considered will include government monetary and fiscal policies, government farm programs, natural resources, labor-management relations, farm labor, marketing, transportation, rural electrification, development of rural areas, health and education and agricultural credit.

The annual convention is the culmination of a policy development process which starts in local communities and funnels recommendations on national policies through county and state units to the convention resolutions committee and voting delegates of the member state Farm Bureaus.

Guest speakers at the general sessions will include Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D. Minn.; Rep. Gerald R. Ford, R. Mich.; and Dr. Edward R. Amdt, president, American Medical Association.

A feature of the convention will be a marketing symposium Dec. 10, led by Dr. Max Brunk, professor of marketing at Cornell University, and Claude Gifford, associate editor of "Farm Journal."

Charles B. Shuman, Federation president, will make his annual address at the opening general session of the convention Dec. 9. Roger Fleming, secretary-treasurer and director of the Federation's Washington office, will make his annual report Dec. 10.

Farm Bureau Women's, Young People's and organization conferences will be held Dec. 9. Conferences in special interest fields of dairy, field crops, horticulture, crops, livestock, poultry, natural resources and insurance will be held the same day.

Election of directors and officers whose terms expire will be held at the final session, Dec. 12.

Farm Labor Report Shows Migrant Drop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—An agriculture department report on the hired farm working force of 1962 shows the number of migratory workers declined slightly for the third consecutive year.

In 1962, migratory labor numbered about 380,000, or 10 per cent of all farm wage workers.

The report shows that migratory workers reported average daily wages of $7.50 for farm work and $8.70 average daily wages for non-migrant workers. However, on the average, non-migrants worked 118 days at farm work. Actually, non-migrant made more money from farm work than the migrant did.

The department study, which is an advance report on the hired farm working force of 1962, was released a day before the house was scheduled to vote on an extension of the migrant labor bill. The administration opposed to the extension, and backed a senate bill which would require that domestic workers offered the same benefits accorded to migrants.

North Dakota Election May Force Plans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—A special election in North Dakota may force the Kennedy administration to open support of a new wheat program.

North Dakota farmers support the mandatory wheat control program more strongly than in most other areas. About 65 per cent of the state's wheat producers voted in favor of the plan.

However, voters in North Dakota's first congressional district elected Andrews, who criticized the administration plan and advocated a voluntary control program.

Administration advisers have been reporting recently that wheat farmers generally still oppose mandatory controls and that they are likely to vote against such a plan again if another referendum is held.

Agriculture Secretary Orville Freeman has not endorsed any move as yet for a new voluntary wheat program. He has been opposing broad hints, however, that he would back such a program if wheat growers generally agree on some new plan.

Sen. Don Short, R., N.D., said it was hard to interpret the special election in terms of what it showed for agricultural policy in the 1964 general election.

Short said, however, that the election "certainly didn't indicate any endorsement of the Kennedy-Freeman policy."

Sen. Quentin N. Burdick, D., said he did not think farm policy was much of an issue in the special election. Sen. Milton Young, R., N.D., said he did not believe the election provided clear-cut test on farm policy.

Sen. George McGovern, D., offered another interpretation. He said the Democratic candidate in the special election, John Hove, was a political unknown running against a widely known Republican. The fact that the Democrat did as well as he did showed substantial support for the Democratic program, McGovern said.

Hog Slaughter Prospects Rise

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The foreign agricultural service in hog slaughter in the principal producing countries in 1963 was about the same as a year earlier, but a two per cent increase is in prospect for 1964. FAS said the total kill in 1964 is expected to be 14 per cent above the 1958-60 average and 36 per cent above 1951-55.

The largest relative increases in hog slaughter will occur in Argentina, Japan, Australia, Philippines, Switzerland, and Canada. Moderate percentage decreases are expected in Sweden, Spain, and New Zealand.

Twin Falls Man Is Renamed Chairman of Soil Division

Glenn Nelson, Twin Falls soil conservation district chairman, was renamed division four chairman for the Idaho association of soil conservation districts at the division's banquet held in the Elks Lodge.

The banquet was scheduled originally for the Town House in Kimberly, but was changed when the Town House burned.

"The crowd could have been larger," said Nelson. "Undoubtedly some did not attend the banquet because of the confusion caused by the fire," he added.

Eleven soil conservation districts reported on their activities for the year, with many listing newsletters and flood work as principal projects.

Districts represented were, East Cassia, West Cassia, Twin Falls, Gooding, Northside, Walcott, Blaine, Balanced Rock, Camas, Minidoka and Wood River.

The delegates heard Earl McClelland, president, Idaho association of soil conservation districts, Lee Morgan, state conservationist and Doyle Scott, administrative officer with the state soil commission, all urge the districts to revise their plans and objectives.

The inference was to keep the districts up on their toes and keep pace with changes being made in the field of water and soil conservation.

Robert Martin, bureau of land management, told the delegates that cooperative agreements between the bureau and the soil conservation districts, plus those connected with forest service, would be undertaken in the near future.

Delegates were urged to attend the state convention scheduled for Nov. 13 to 15 at Pocatello.

Two resolutions were presented to the delegates and will be considered at the state convention. They are for the protection of base history in cropland conversion and against soil bank land where there is no land cover.

Delegates and new soil technicians were introduced at the meeting. Extension service personnel were absent because of a meeting at the University of Idaho.

Farm Prices Are Below Last Year

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—Farm prices were unchanged in the month ended Oct. 15, the agriculture department reports. The average prices received were two per cent below those of a year ago.

The most important price changes during the month were decreases for cattle and corn, which were offset by higher prices for wholesale milk, oranges and wheat.

The cost of farm production also was unchanged during the month. The stability of farm prices and farm costs compared with those of a month earlier

House Group Hears Plea On Industry

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—An unbiased search for methods of preserving independence and competition in the food industry was urged Oct. 29 by George J. Mehren, assistant secretary of agriculture, at a house agriculture subcommittee hearing on a bill designed to halt vertical integration in a segment of the industry.

The measure, directed to livestock and livestock products, would, among other things, prohibit retail sales of dairy products by processors whose aggregate gross sales exceeded more than 30 million dollars in the preceding year.

Mehren noted that if present trends are carried to a logical extreme, processors and perhaps farmers might someday be forced to operate as though they were under control of their retail-store customers. He said that a study of the causes and effects of market changes is needed because "the stake is the very shape of the American economy."

HOLDING THE ROPE is Mrs. Earl Huston, Boise, on "Shur-on's Topper." Colts sired by the famed stallion will be sold at the Nov. 9 Idaho Appaloosa Breeders sale here. The horse has been named grand champion of 22 shows.

Total Supply of Feed Grain Nearly Equals Record Despite U.S. Program

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (UPI)—The agriculture department estimates the total feed grain supply for 1963-64 at 215 million tons, practically the same as last year.

This high supply situation exists after three years of costly feed grain programs in which farmers were paid for diverting their cropland to conserving uses.

In a review of the feed grain situation, the department said the feed grain carryover of 62.5 million tons into the 1963-64 feeding season was about nine million tons less than a year earlier, continuing the decline that has been under way since the record carryover of 84.7 million tons in 1960-61. But the smaller carryover into 1963-64 was practically offset by a nine million ton increase in production.

The 1963 feed grain crop of 152 million tons is second only to the record 1960 crop and is expected to be only a little below total domestic and export requirements. The reduction of carryover stocks during 1963-64 now is expected to be only about three to four million tons. This would bring the carryover into 1964-65 down to about 59 million tons.

The department said the large feed grain crop this year resulted from both increased acreage and higher yield per acre.

Through 1961, 1962 and 1963, the department paid farmers about 2.5 billion dollars to hold down feed grain acreage.

The feed grain program in 1961 cut the feed grain surplus about 1.3 million tons. The program cost 782 million dollars. That figures out to a cost of about $1.88 for each bushel of surplus reduction.

In 1962, the surplus was reduced to 9.3 million tons at a cost of 844 million dollars. In 1963, department officials said the surplus was reduced 3.5 million tons at a cost of 878 million dollars. This will bring the payments to about 94 cents for each bushel the surplus is cut.

Department officials said that in spite of the rising payment figures, the feed grain program still is saving money for the taxpayers. They estimated that in the long run, the programs from 1961 through this year will save a net of about 1.5 billion dollars.

Idaho Farm Bureau to Hold Pocatello Confab

POCATELLO, Nov. 8—A great deal of speculation about the future of agriculture in the nation's economy will highlight the annual convention of Idaho Farm Bureau, Nov. 17-20. Some 500 farmers are expected to attend the various sessions in the Hotel Bannock, here.

The meeting will be opened with an impressive vespers service Nov. 17. Dr. Donald Walker, president, Idaho State university, will give an address, "Peace of Mind, through Right Living."

A series of commodity sessions will follow the annual reports on Monday. Addressing the general commodity session will be Harold J. Ackley, manager, public relations division, Bunkist Growers.

During the morning session, delegates will hear the annual message of Idaho Farm Bureau President L. B. Martin, Caldwell; Mrs. Albert D. Wilson, Emmett; Farm Bureau Women's chairman; Lloyd D. Browning, Pocatello, executive secretary, and Eldon L. Loyer, Pocatello, insurance services manager.

Mrs. William Wilkie, AFBF women's representative from Okla.ahoma, will address a special women's luncheon and will remain to attend the annual Farm Bureau Women's conference in the afternoon. The state talent find and talk meet contest will be held Nov. 17.

Sharing the speakers' platform on Tuesday will be C. L. Kay, Vice President, Lubbock Christian college, and T. C. Peterson, director of program development division, American Farm Bureau.

That evening will be the annual banquet and an address by Dr. Iver Bjornsen, foreign agricultural expert, Denmark. He will speak on "My Observations of American Agriculture."

George W. Abbott, Attorney at Law, Minden, Nev., former assistant secretary of the Interior, will give an address on "Natural Resources."

Voting delegates to the state's largest farm organization will vote Nov. 18 and 19 on policy statements to govern the activities of Farm Bureau during 1964.

Delegates and alternates to the annual convention of American Farm Bureau, Dec. 8-13 in Chicago, will be elected, as will the president of Farm Bureau and various board members.

Also taking part on the convention program will be F. W. Castello, Pocatello, American Farm Bureau field representative, and Mrs. Van Ness Wallentine, Logan, Utah, AFBF Women's representative.

Contest Starts

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 8—The best young farmers in approximately 1,000 communities will be recognized this fall as the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce conducts its annual outstanding young farmer competition.

During the next few months the records of thousands of young farmers between the ages of 21 and 36 will be examined by local judges to select one young farmer in each community who has made the most career progress during the year, contributed the most to his community and carried out the best conservation program.

Appaloosa Breeders Offer Top Line for Horse Sale

"Blood line is important to the success of any animal sale," says Robert Harney, one of the co-promoters of the Idaho Appaloosa Breeders sale scheduled for 7 p.m. Saturday at Prescott's sales pavilion.

Thayne Lancaster, Filer, is the sale manager.

To illustrate the point that the local sale will offer top blood lines in Appaloosa stock, Lancaster said colts sired by Sharons Topper will be consigned.

Sharons Topper has been named grand champion 22 times in various shows throughout the country. He is one of the top Appaloosa studs in the Northwest, Harney added.

The 10-year-old stallion is owned by J. Mereness, Boise. Both Lancaster and Harney have invited the public to attend the sale and view the stock before sale time. The sale was started by Appaloosa horse breeders in southern Idaho to eliminate the necessity of trucking horses to distant sales.

Colts sired by Chief Malheur, Free's Chief, Chief Chico, Apache and Minidoka Chief will be offered. These horses are well known among Appaloosa horse men and have provided excellent foundation stock for the Appaloosa breed, Lancaster added.

Sun Scald Can Damage City Trees

Many residents in Magic Valley, especially those in the city of Twin Falls, had trouble with their shade trees turning brown last summer from what is called "sun scald." This was particularly true with blue ash, says Genn, Twin Falls county agent.

Genn explained that the term "sun scald" is a misleading name because to scald means the use of water. In this case the problem was due to the lack of water, especially deep in the soil as required by most trees.

Trees require more water than a lawn. A half-inch rain will do good to a lawn but may not add anything to the support of a tree. During the unseasonable rains last spring watering of lawns was very infrequent, during which time shade trees were not watered at all. By midsummer many trees had exhausted their underground moisture and the leaves began to dry up and turn brown, Genn said.

Now is a good time to start the trees and shrubs. Good moisture prevention of scald next summer, six feet deep is not too much. Water all trees and shrubs well before the soil freezes. Next spring when the leaves start out, protection against winter kill is to soak the soil again around all outside plants.

Is this the reason

Horseless carriages weren't called horseless carriages for nothing.

Gas engines may have taken the place of the horse. But the horse left its mark.

Early cars kept their whip sockets, long after there were no horses to whip.

Dashboards once kept the horse from splashing mud on the passengers.

And most cars have kept their engines up front, where the horse used to be.

When the Volkswagen was designed, it was assumed that horses would never be back.

most engines still aren't in back?

So VW felt free to put the engine over the rear wheels, the ones that drive the car.

That way, you don't spin your wheels getting power from the front to the back.

Or horse around with heavy driveshalls.

You also get more weight over the drive wheels for firm traction when the going gets sloppy.

Actually, the VW's air-cooled aluminum engine would have been a sensation, even in front.

But the big idea was moving it to the rear. It was a great step backward in the world of automobile design.

Slaughter of Red Meat Is Above 1962

BOISE, Nov. 8 — The production of red meat by commercial slaughter plants in Idaho during September is estimated at 13,554,000 pounds by the crop reporting service.

This is four per cent above the output of September 1962, but slightly below that of last month.

The accumulative production of red meat for January through September this year totaled 120,634,000 pounds four per cent above the same period of last year. The estimated dressed weight of cattle, calves and hogs slaughtered during September 1963 was above a year earlier. The dressed weight of sheep and lambs was below last year.

A comparison of September with a year earlier shows more cattle and hogs slaughtered but fewer calves and sheep. During the nine month period of 1963 there has been more cattle and hogs slaughtered than during the same period of 1962 but fewer calves and sheep.

The average liveweight per animal slaughtered during September 1963 was above a year earlier for all classes of livestock.

Commercial production of red meat nationally during September in the 48 States is estimated at 2,439 million pounds, up 16 per cent from a year earlier and two per cent above last month.

Commercial meat production includes slaughter in federally inspected and other commercial plants, but excludes farm slaughter.

Price Index Drops Below 1963 Figure

BOISE, Nov. 8 — The Oct. 15 index of prices received by Idaho farmers was 239 per cent of the 1910-14 average, according to the crop reporting service.

This was three per cent below the September 1963 index of 247 and two per cent below the 245 computed for October 1962. The decrease from a month earlier reflects declines in both the all crops index and the livestock and livestock products index.

The all crops index at 209 was six points, three per cent below last month's index and was three points, one per cent below the index of a year ago. Higher average prices for wheat, oats, barley, dry peas, hay and red clover seed were more than offset by lower average prices received for apples, potatoes, dry beans and alfalfa seed.

The livestock and livestock products index for October 15, 1963, at 275 was nine points, three per cent, below the September 1963 index and 10 points, four per cent, below the index of 285 computed for Oct. 15, 1962. Compared with a month earlier, lower average prices were received for all items in the index except milk and eggs which were higher and wool which was unchanged.

The broiler-feed price ratio at 12 for Oct. 15, 1963 was below both the 3.3 for September 1963 and the 3.3 for Oct. 1962. The feed ratio at 9.8 was above both the 9.4 for last month and the 9.3 of a year ago. Price ratios reflect the number of pounds of poultry feed equal in value to one pound of chicken and to one dozen eggs.

Shortage of Milk to Hit Red Nations

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP) — Recent information from the agriculture department indicates the Soviet bloc is running into a milk shortage.

The Soviets already have admitted a shortage of wheat and are trying to buy huge quantities of grain from the United States to add to the large volume purchased from Canada.

The apparent milk shortage in the bloc is more acute in Russia than in any of the eastern European satellites. Milk production in the USSR for 1963 has been forecast at 105 billion pounds, off 10 per cent from the 116.4 billion pounds produced in 1962. Average production of milk in the Soviet Union for 1956-60 was 111.6 billion pounds.

Bulgaria is the only satellite where milk production for 1963 is expected to equal that of last year. The milk supply in Czechoslovakia and East Germany will be three per cent below 1962. It will be off five per cent in Hungary, eight per cent in Poland, one per cent in Rumania and one per cent in Yugoslavia.

The department estimates world milk production in 1963 will be down about two per cent, based on preliminary estimates.

PUTTING ON chains so he can make it to the top of the hill near Jarbridge is Myron Dossett, soil conservation snow surveyor. Several hunters had already spun out on the mountain. # Moisture Is Improved on Salmon Falls Watershed water draining off the north slopes runs into the Cedar creek watershed. However, most of the mountains around Jarbridge drain their water into the Salmon tract or westward into the Bruneau river area.

By the time Salmon tract water melts on the mountain, flows through O'Neill basin and heads northward through San Jacinto and finally ends up trapped behind Salmon dam, it has made quite a trip. A few miles south of Jackpot, Nev., the creek is joined by Shoshone creek, which drains the south side of Deadline ridge and Magic mountain.

Snow surveying isn't confined just to the winter months. During the summer, snow surveyors can be found in the mountains taking care of their snow courses. A fallen tree can cause a drift over a snow course and it can give false readings. The courses are brushed and cleared each summer.

It appeared somewhat odd last Friday when Dossett and the Times-News photographer loaded heavy coats and tire chains into Dossett's pickup to run the grade from Jarbridge.

After putting on chains, progress was easier.

With one exception, most of the moisture stations are situated well above 8,000 feet in elevation. There is one moisture station located near the Patrick ranch at Three Creek.

Aerial markers and snow course markers are inspected while on these trips. The actual reading of the soil moisture is simple. During the middle part of January, with the wind and snow whipping around it isn't too easy to connect wires.

When the moisture readings

World Wheat Production Shows Drop

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—The agriculture department predicts world wheat production in 1963-64 will reach 8.3 billion bushels. This is about 400 million bushels below the record 8.7 billion bushels harvested in 1958 and 1962.

The department said current forecasts are subject to change as revised estimates become available for northern hemisphere countries and as crops develop in the southern hemisphere. Harvesting of wheat in the southern hemisphere normally begins in November. Even so, growing conditions up to early December play a large part in determining the final output in Argentina and Australia, leading producers in the southern half of the Earth.

The big production area where reliable records are available is North America. Total wheat production in North America this year has been estimated at about 1.9 billion bushels. This is about 200 million bushels above the 1963 total and about 300 million bushels above the 1955-59 average. Canada's crop of 719 million bushels is a record but only slightly above the 702-million-bushel harvest in 1952. The U.S. crop of slightly more than 1.1 billion bushels is four per cent above the 1962 crop but seven per cent below the five-year average. Mexico's output of 59 million bushels is an all-time high for that country.

The department made no estimate of the wheat production this year in the Soviet Union.

Growing conditions over much of the Soviet Union were unfavorable and a substantial drop in wheat production is estimated, the department said. "The fourth successive year of drought in the new lands area cut production of spring wheat, and yields of winter wheat were down in the important Ukraine region. A substantial reduction in the total output is indicated, though official estimates are not available."

The Soviet Union is attempting to circumvent this reduction by purchasing large quantities of the breadgrain from Canada and the United States.

The department has made these estimates of wheat production this year: Western Europe, 1.3 billion bushels; Eastern Europe, 645 million bushels; Asia, 2 billion bushels; Africa, 215 million bushels; South America, 300 million bushels; Australia and New Zealand, 325 million bushels.

U.S. Record Paces World In Soybeans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—The foreign agricultural service estimates the world production of soybeans in 1963 at a record 1.1 billion bushels.

This is six per cent above the 1962 output, five per cent above the previous record 1961, and 20 per cent above the 1955-59 average.

U.S. production of soybeans accounted for about two-thirds of the world total this year. The U.S. soybean output this year is a record 727 million bushels.

FAS said Red China, the world's second largest producer of soybeans, is expected to come up with about 287 million bushels this year. FAS said Red China's soybean production during the last several years is believed to have been somewhat smaller than estimated earlier.

Food Costs to Buyer Are Less

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8—Americans continue to spend 19 per cent of their incomes for food, amounting probably to $398 per person per year, according to the U.S. department of agriculture. Ten years ago they spent 23 per cent of a smaller income.

Total 1962 food bill on domestic farm products was 64.3 billion dollars of which some 42.9 billion dollars represented marketing costs. This was three per cent more than in 1961, due to greater volume of food handled plus higher unit marketing charges.

Farm value of foods between 1961 and 1962 increased at the average of the annual rate for the past five years, two per cent. Retail foodstore prices were up about one per cent, and food eaten away from home was up three per cent.

U. S. Beef Producers Can Meet Demands, Chief Avers

LEWISTON, Nov. 8—The domestic livestock industry is fully capable of continuing to meet the demands of American consumers into the future, "if its incentive is not destroyed by foreign competition," a leader of the industry declared here.

O. W. McMillan, executive vice president, American National Cattlemen's association, Denver, told a luncheon session of the Idaho Cattlemen's association that "potential for future expansion are limited almost entirely by the profit picture."

McMillan said the excessive imports of foreign beef in recent years are depressing cattle prices below levels needed for "healthy, long-term growth, and, in some cases, they are causing grave financial difficulties."

He pointed out that domestic ranchers and feeders have no way to shave costs much further to meet the competition of foreign stockmen who enjoy cost levels roughly half those here.

"It is unrealistic to say, as some do, that we could just let the foreign meat fill United States needs," he said. "No single country or combination of meat-raising nations could come near supplying the quantities — and quality — this nation consumes, and when the domestic industry is wiped out or in a disorganized state, there would be no guarantee that the American consumer will not be at the mercy of international factors beyond their control."

McMillan said that American stockmen aren't against reasonable foreign competition but are increasing their demands for tariff-quota protection "so that we can remain ready to meet this nation's population explosion."

Sagebrush Eradication Program to Include Wildlife Study, Says BLM

SHOSHONE, Nov. 8 — A joint operation between the Idaho fish and game department and the bureau of land management could result in both agencies profiting from an experiment being conducted on range lands north of here.

According to Dale Kinnaman, BLM division manager, the bureau and the fish and game department recently toured an area where a sagebrush eradication program is under way.

This tour is held annually and was initiated about three years ago. It was about that time that the bureau of land management's sagebrush eradication program had expanded to the point where several thousand acres were being chemically treated annually.

With the realization that a program of this scope carried on year after year might have a detrimental effect on wildlife populations, the BLM and the Idaho fish and game department got together to try to determine the extent of this effect and minimize it.

Although it will take several years to determine the effects on wildlife, the two agencies have adopted several practices which we are sure will minimize detrimental effects to wildlife.

In addition, the BLM has agreed to follow a checkerboard pattern in the yearly treatments in any given area. In general this would mean the treatment of alternate sections (640 acres), while those between would remain untouched. The program will be adjusted from year to year as new information becomes available.

Each agency is carrying out a study program on some of the projects. The BLM has set up permanent transects on the projects which enable us to keep track of the changes in plant composition on a year to year basis while the fish and game department is studying wildlife population trends in relation to the projects.

MILK TOTALS DOWN
BOISE, Nov. 8—The total production of milk in Idaho is estimated at 127 million pounds for September, 1963. This compares with 129 million pounds for September, 1962.

Twin Falls Agents Report Stripe Rust Is Present

Twin Falls county agricultural agents, Donald Youls and Olan Genn, reported that stripe rust, a disease which is widespread in every grass where the wheat disease will overwinter.

Youls and Genn have been checking during their travels in the county to determine the now there are more live spores whereabout of the disease than in April last year. The odds can be that mous damage to yields this past spring seeded wheat in 1964 could be severely damaged, the agents said.

The county agents said if favorable weather for the growth of stripe rust prevails next spring, as it did last season, damage to susceptible varieties of wheat will occur.

Some volunteer spring wheat fields are so infected at this time they are yellow in color from the number of stripe rust spores. These spores, which are the same
